Ensnconced in the very heart of the centro storico of vibrant and eclectic Palermo is BB22 - a haven of understated sophistication, tranquillity and relaxed atmosphere. This 15th century palazzo was lovingly restored over three years by its chic Milanese owner who has created a charming and luxurious boutique B&B from which guests can explore this magical city.

An attractive and stylish mix of contemporary with antique has been incorporated to create seven individually designed rooms. Each is spacious and decorated with great flair and originality and each has its own name such as Bergamotto and Mandarino. Fantastic lighting imbues the natural and soft colours used in each room – grey, beige and taupe – and all sorts of details have been used to enhance the character of each room be it colourful rugs, gilt-framed mirrors or pretty bedside tables. Two of the rooms have their own terraces on which one can relax with a book after a day's exploration of the city on foot. Bathrooms are equally stylish and individual and the Orangerie Suite boasts a fabulous egg-shaped bathtub by Matteo Thun set in the middle of the room.

The breakfast room also serves as the bar where guests can enjoy aperitivi in this lovely home-from-home atmosphere and there is a charming adjoining roof terrace where one can lounge on sofas and enjoy the view across the rooftops. Breakfast comprises fresh juice and fresh Sicilian coffee (the best!) together with delicious Sicilian pastries and fruit salad which sets one up for exploring the many delights of Palermo. BB22 is excellently located so one can explore easily on foot and nearby are lots of fabulous restaurants ranging from very local and simple trattorie to more sophisticated and refined restaurants.

BB22 is so quiet and calm that it's hard to remember one is the centre of busy and frenetic Palermo! Stepping into this haven is a joy and the staff are extremely friendly and helpful and will assist with all kinds of information regarding restaurant reservations, museum openings and much more. BB22 cannot be too highly recommended and is a unique find in what Merrion regards as one of Italy's most fascinating, exciting and captivating cities!
